

Are you prepared for your future job interviews?

Classrooms focus on a number of disciplines, but interviewing is rarely one of them. Many students often do not have the soft skills necessary to pitch themselves to employers, are nervous about the experience, or get stumped by unfamiliar questions.

For you to practice your interview skills, we have created three sample internship positions and a three-step mock interview process to simulate a real job interview process:

STEP 1 - Application

Submit your CV, resume, cover letter (optional) and additional supporting materials before 6th of April.

Email them to bus2@mail.ntpu.edu.tw with the subject " 【Let's Do a Mock Interview_job position_full name】 ". Please notice that an incorrect subject will be considered as an ineligible application.

STEP 2 - One-on-One Interview

Strong candidates will be arranged an one-on-one interview with either the curator or a senior executive of TEDxTaipei on 25th or 27th of April at Business College of National Taipei University.

STEP 3 - Feedback

In a real job seeking process, you will be given an offer with compensation and benefit package by this step if you are an ideal candidate. Here at the "Let's Do a Mock Interview" event, you will be given a thorough report of the CV (if your application is eligible) and the one-on-one interview (if you are a strong candidate) to indicate the overall result. It will help you better understanding your weakness and provide you useful tips, which will help your future interview.

Please follow our facebook fan page. Details and information will be provided on the page. Also useful resources on how to build a resume and outstand in an interview will be posted.

We wish you the best of luck in landing your dream job!

Link:

https://www.facebook.com/Lets-Do-a-Mock-Interview-276082199493496/?view_public_for=276082199493496

Organized by Business of College, National Taipei University
Co-organized by Dots in Action (TEDxTaipei curation team)